

Assesment_16thJan2025_5

In the wake of proposed peace agreements and developments in the Middle-East and Ukraine, it is thought that a sustained period of stability will be upheld, allowing conflicts to be resolved.

With troops amassing for NATO Exercise Joint Viking 2025 near Norway, French forces exploring viable routes to repel potential Soviet advances through Estonia and possibly Belarus, the Russian-Ukrainian conflict should be resolved before March 2025. It is believed that this apparent show of conspicuous force neatly coincides with the inauguration of the President of the United States of America on 20th January 2025.

Inasmuch as these, "bode well" with adherence to respective treaties/agreement, there is still the issue of land rights and easement to be determined, which play a fundamental, neigh essential role in both situations. Parentheticaly, the growing relationship between Syria and Ukraine is curious, and is being observed by the intelligence community which should reveal further insights into recent, nascent revolutions. There is a distinct possibility that, like South & North Korea, there could be a demilitarised zone (DMZ), between the Ukraine/Crimea and Russia, which may enhance national borders, yet these aspects pertaining to geopolitical geography are complicated by energy related assets located within these lands.

In the Kursk area, near the NPP and reservoir, it is thought that the situation is 'ripe' for a skyquake. The build up of gases combined with percussive residue and other geological factors, suggest that something extraordinary is going to occur, hence our belief that a skyquake, or something of equivalent significance, will happen in the area and advice has been issued accordingly. It is our opinion that this is tantamount to, "the earth crying out," at the loss of life and the affects the war has had on its environment. This will seem odd to many, yet a spiritual view of the situation would explain this; examples within religious texts occur with similarities shown in the Torah, Vedic texts, et al (it is events such as skyquakes that are depictions of "God's wrath," when described by authors).

Another assessment will be performed in three weeks.
